

Secret Army General Taken by the French

By RODNEY ANGOVE

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — The French government today reported its biggest success to date in its war against the Secret Army Organization—the capture of former Gen. Edmond Jouhaud, one of the top leaders of the European underground in Algeria.

A French spokesman announced that Jouhaud and his staff were captured during a 10-hour battle that raged through the heart of Oran, Algeria's second city in western Algeria.

Secret army commandos tried to rescue Jouhaud, their commander in western Algeria, but were driven off.

Jouhaud and four others, including a woman, were flown to Paris today and locked up in Sante Prison. Jouhaud, along with ex-Gen. Raoul Salan and other fugitive leaders of the abortive general's revolt in Algiers last April, is under a death sentence for that defiance of President Charles de Gaulle's government.

A French spokesman in Algiers said Jouhaud and his staff were trapped in a building on the waterfront that had been under surveillance for some time.

The captives were transferred to a gendarmerie barracks. Minutes later a strong secret-army commando group attacked the barracks. The French forces repelled the attack.

Officials said Jouhaud was arrested Sunday about 4 p.m. It was not until about 10:30 p.m. that the police realized how big a catch they had made and his identification verified.

In addition to false papers in the name of Gerberd, Jouhaud had a mustache and a false beard, and was wearing civilian clothes. At the moment of the arrest, Jouhaud was in a meeting with 16 other persons. About 10 of them were taken to the police headquarters. Five were flown to Paris.

During the search of the 17-story seafloor building, personally led by the deputy prefect (chief) of police in Oran, a number of apartment doors were forced open with axe blows.

Reports Sunday said that the operation was aimed at finding a secret army radio transmitter.

One of those arrested with him was identified as a former major named Gamelin. The others were Continued on Page Two

NCAAP Calls Boycott at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People threatened Sunday to boycott a downtown Kroger supermarket, here.

The Pine Bluff branch of the NAACP said the store was ethically obligated to hire more Negroes because of its heavy volume of Negro trade.

A resolution adopted by the group said: "We are certainly desirous of coming to a satisfactory solution without a boycott if possible . . . but there will be no backing down."

The NAACP said no boycott will be affected immediately because of planned meetings later this week with Kroger officials.

Grocery store officials withheld comment on the pending boycott. A dime store in Pine Bluff shut down earlier this year after the NAACP staged a lengthy boycott.

The historical sites at Washington have proved invaluable to classes in learning facts about Arkansas history.

With the jonquils and yellow bulbs now in bloom Washington is very colorful at this time of year.

$11,685 Judgment is Confirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today an $11,685 judgement given W. C. Burrow Co. of Malvern in a dispute over a contract to build an industrial plant at Fordyce.

The decision affirmed Dallas Chancery Court, which held the amount was a fair profit on the contract.

The Dallas County Industrial Development Corporation and Hercules Trower Co., the defendants, contend Burrow was due only $2,947.

The question was whether Burrow had an oral contract to do the work for $10,000 profit or whether it was supposed to perform the contract on a cost-plus ten per cent basis.

SCS Short of Technicians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts says a shortage of technicians is holding back needed installation of soil conservation practices on much of the nation's crop and range land.

The Association's weekly news letter agreed with President Kennedy who, in his recent conservation message to Congress, said nearly three-fourths of the private group and range land still need improved conservation measures.

"The farmers and ranchers are ready," the Association said. "The districts are ready. Thousands of applications for assistance are on hand—and waiting. But there aren't enough technicians to step up the rate of operations—and there is no substitute or alternative for trained conservation technicians on this job."

$600 Million for Public Works Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for a $600-million program to start public works projects at once in areas suffering from substantial unemployment.

Kennedy outlined his new program in a letter to the House Public Works Committee as the committee opened hearings on another administration public works plan—a standby $2-billion program for use in future recessions.

The President asked for prompt enactment of both an immediate and a standby program to provide jobs. The new program had been strongly urged by labor union leaders at a White House meeting with Kennedy two weeks ago.

The President said that, despite steady economic improvement during the past year, there are nearly 1,000 communities—large cities, smaller cities, and rural areas—that are experiencing "serious problems of prolonged, large-scale unemployment and economic distress."

Last week Kennedy reportedly endorsed a proposal by Sen. Joseph S. Clark Jr., D-Pa., and Rep. John A. Blatnik, D-Minn., that up to $500 million be made available for public works grants this year if the April unemployment figures don't show a dramatic drop.

The latest figures, for February, show 5.6 per cent of the labor force out of work.

The $500 million could be spent only in areas of persistently high unemployment and would have to be matched dollar-for-dollar by state and local governments.

The administration's official view on the proposal will be given to the House Public Works Committee today by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff, Budget Director David E. Bell, Chairman Walter Heller of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and Kermit Gordon, a member of the council.

The committee will hold two weeks of hearings on Kennedy's request for the standby authority, which he outlined in a message to Congress last Feb. 19. He said it would be "an invaluable anti-recession tool."

Southern State Plans Expansion

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Plans to apply for a loan of $1,600,000 from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency have been announced by Southern State College here.

Bruce said $400,000 in state funds and the FHA loan would be used for a man's dormitory and college center. The present cafeteria would be converted into an infirmary and dormitory.

U. S. Court Rules Voters in City Entitled to Hearing on Redistricting System

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court held today that city voters who contend they do not have fair representation in state legislatures are entitled to a hearing in federal courts.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., speaking for the high tribunal in a case from Tennessee, said a special federal court in Nashville should hear a complaint that a minority of rural voters in that state elect and control a majority of the state's legislators.

The issue, however, extends far beyond single state interest. In numerous other states, there are situations which city voters contend are similar—a pattern of rural voters controlling the legislature's makeup.

The complaint in Tennessee was brought by metropolitan area voters who said they have been discriminated against by refusal of entrenched rural legislators to reapportion election districts in line with the boom in city population and dwindling farm population.

Brennan said it would not be necessary for the special court in Nashville to decide whether allegations by city voters of impairment of their votes by an apportionment in Tennessee "will ultimately entitle them to any relief, in order to hold that they have standing to seek it."

The special court in Nashville had dismissed urban voters' complaints with the explanation that earlier Supreme Court decisions barred federal intervention in such political matters.

The Supreme Court's vote was 6-2. Justices Felix Frankfurter and John M. Harlan each wrote dissenting opinions. Justice Charles Evans Whittaker took no part.

The group of Tennessee city voters pressing the case to the Supreme Court said similar rural domination situations exist in more than half the states.

In Tennessee and many other states, they said, rural districts are able to control taxes, spending and other legislation without proper regard for needs of growing urban populations.

Tennessee's constitution calls for reapportionment of the General Assembly every 10 years by counties or districts, according to the number of qualified voters. But the Tennessee Legislature has refused since 1901 to reapportion seats in that body.

Today's high court decision simply opens the way for the complaining city voters to pursue the matter in lower federal courts.

Arkansans to Hear N. M. Governor

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Edwin L. McCheser, Republican governor of New Mexico, will speak at a Arkansas Rally for Two Parties here April 20.

McCheser, a 1939 graduate of the University of Arkansas law school, formerly served as an FBI agent in the state.

He was first named to the New Mexico gubernatorial post in 1951 and served two terms. He was elected governor in 1956 for one term and again in 1960.

The rally here will be held in Hestland Stadium. It is sponsored by the Jefferson County Republican Party.

Alford Files for Governor of Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., formally filed today as a candidate for governor and promised a "positive, aggressive and constructive campaign."

Alford became the first official candidate by signing his corrupt practice pledge and paying a $1,500 filing fee with the Secretary of State.

He declined to discuss the possibilities that Gov. Orval E. Faubus may seek a fifth term. He also refused to talk about other possible candidates. Only one, attorney Kenneth Coffelt of Little Rock, has announced.

Alford filed three months to the day from the time he announced on Dec. 26 he would be a candidate.

Speculation that Alford eventually would run for governor has circulated since he first was elected to Congress on a write-in campaign in 1958. It reached a peak early last year when Alford's Congressional district was combined with that of Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., when the legislature realigned the state into four instead of six congressional districts.

Alford said he has leased campaign headquarters in the Grady Manning hotel, but that opening date of the headquarters and details of his campaign organization would not be announced until later.

The Congressman said he would return to Washington today to resume his Congressional duties. "I don't intend to miss any important roll calls because I am running for governor," he said.

Alford sidestepped all questions about what he thought might be Continued on Page Two

Poll Tax Bill May Come Up for House Vote

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another early session of the Senate was called today in an effort by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield to inch along toward a vote in the anti-poll tax fight.

Mansfield was hopeful that at least a start on voting could be made within the next two or three days.

The purpose of the 9 a.m. starting hour was to increase the pressure on Southern senators waging an oratorical battle against a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Still pending is a motion Mansfield made March 14 to bring up a minor bill as a vehicle for getting the anti-poll tax amendment before the Senate for action.

Mansfield is aiming at a vote on this preliminary motion in the next day or two as Southern opponents exhaust the two times they are permitted under the rules to speak on the subject under consideration.

At Saturday's session, Sens. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., Lister Hill, D-Ala., and A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., used up their second speeches.

Alabama, Mississippi and Virginia are among the five states that still require voters to pay a poll tax. The other two are Arkansas and Texas.

The scrap over the poll tax has stymied consideration of other measures in the Senate and forced almost a complete shutdown in the work of committees.

However, the only major bill awaiting action is a controversial measure to authorize the United States to buy U.N. bonds to help finance peace-keeping operations in the Congo and Middle East.

President Kennedy has asked for authority to purchase half of a $200-million U.N. bond issue. A compromise bill approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee would limit U.S. purchases above $25 million to the amount other U.N. members buy up to an over-all total of $100 million.

Kennedy said last week he would go along with the substitute.

In the House, leaders planned action this week on a major tax revision bill and a $5,170,788,000 appropriation to finance the Labor and Welfare departments and related agencies in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Search for Patrol Car Thief Spreads

SILOAM SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies and State Police were crisscrossing wooded sections near here today in search of a man wanted for a Fort Smith liquor store robbery and theft of a patrol car.

When officers fanned out into the woods Sunday, it was their second attempt to catch the man, who authorities say they believe to be Harold Walker, 24, of Selma, Calif. The current search was touched off by the report of an attempted car theft Sunday.

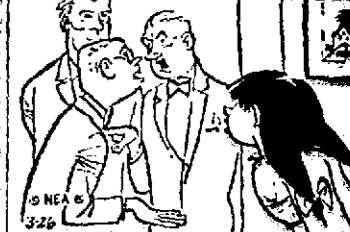

The first search began last Thursday night when police stopped two men in a stolen car and one of them grabbed State Trooper James Morgan's pistol, took his patrol car and escaped.

The second man, B. G. Love, 30, escaped in the stolen car, but was later captured. The man police believe to be Walker wrecked the patrol car, then fled on foot.

The search was resumed Sunday when the attempted theft of a car was reported at the home of Mary Frances Turman near here.

Oklahoma authorities joined in the search Sunday and bloodhounds were brought in by Sheriff Slim Weaver of Mays County. State police said today the search was being concentrated in an area four miles east of Siloam Springs, off State Highway 16.

reported to be of lesser importance.
A source close to secret army circles in Oran said that former Gen. Paul Gardley, once the commander of the Foreign Legion, would probably take over as commander of the Oran region for the secret army.
Jouhaud and Salan, the top commander of the secret army, had been fugitives in Algeria since the collapse of the generals' revolt last April. The other two leaders of the putsch attempt, Gen. Maurice Challe and Gen. Andre Zeller, surrendered and were sentenced to 15-year prison terms.
Jouhaud, Salan and seven colonels also still at large were all sentenced to death in absentia.
Jouhaud, 56, was a 1962 graduate of the St. Cyr Military Academy, France's West Point.
A short, stocky, taciturn man, he played a backstage role in the May 13, 1958, uprising in Algiers which brought Gen. de Gaulle back to power.
At that time Jouhaud was deputy to Gen. Salan, the French commander in Algeria. In July 1958, Jouhaud was moved out of Algeria and made air force chief of staff.
He retired in 1960 at his own request and slipped back into Algeria a few weeks before the generals' uprising last year.
In Oran, meanwhile, angry European settlers and French troops eyed each other warily over makeshift barricades in the heart of the city.
Troops in tanks and halftracks waited word from their commanders whether to clear the roadblocks in a frontal assault or to seal off the area as other French troops have done with the rebellious Bab el Oued district of Algiers.
Dichard settlers, spearheaded by commandos of the secret army, blocked off the center of Oran, Algeria's second city, and battled French forces until almost midnight Sunday.
Sunday's death toll throughout Algeria, resulting mostly from murderous attacks on Moslems by members of the secret army, was 20 with 68 wounded.
Although casualties were low, fighting was spectacular. Infuriated settlers from behind their barricades fought French military police with rifles, pistols and sub-machine guns.
The French air force sent two planes swooping low over the area in late afternoon to strafe it with bursts from heavy machine guns.
Tracer bullets lit up the sky as French troops moved in for a systematic search of European apartment buildings, seeking leaders of the secret army and a clandestine radio transmitter.
Belief grew that settlers in Oran and Algiers were taking matters in their own hands and attacking against the wishes of the secret army command. Secret army pamphlets pledged not to fire on the troops except in legitimate defense.
Christian Fouchet, new French high commissioner in Algeria, warned European settlers of Algeria that if they kept fighting to sabotage the cease-fire agreement between France and the Moslem rebels, they would be "the first and main victims."
In Paris, President Charles de Gaulle's government called home Maurice Dejean, an ambassador to Moscow, to show displeasure with the Soviet Union's formal recognition of the Algerian rebel provisional government. Under terms of the cease-fire, France remains sovereign in Algeria until independence is voted in a self-determination referendum.

The Chicken Cook Queen to Be Picked
LITTLE ROCK — Arkansas' "Chicken Cookin' Queen" for 1962 will be named during the Third Annual State Poultry Festival to be held here June 8-9, following a series of district eliminations scheduled for El Dorado, Batesville, Hope, Springdale and Russellville.
A record number of homemakers are expected to compete in this year's chicken cooking events according to Mrs. Freda Greenan of Hope, who had been named chairman of the annual contest.
The chicken cooking chairman announced today that entries are now being accepted for preliminary judging in the statewide contest, which is open to all homemakers 18 years of age or older.
To complete in judging each contestant must complete a menu for one day, including morning, noon and evening meals. Meals should be nutritionally balanced and appealing, also one or more poultry dishes must be included in the day's menu.
Contestants must provide judges with their favorite poultry recipe for consideration, as well as list their favorite poultry product with a statement giving reason for this selection.
Preliminary judging will be made from official entry forms, which may be obtained from the Arkansas Poultry Federation office, P.O. Box 1446, Little Rock, Ark. From this group of entries contestants will be named to compete in the district cook-offs set for May 12 in El Dorado, May 19, in Batesville, May 25 in Hope, May 26 in Springdale and June 1, Russellville.

Gromyko and Rusk Talk About Berlin
By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk conferred today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in another attempt to keep the East-West disagreement on Berlin from deepening.
Their conference, in the privacy of the Soviet villa, took place on the eve of Rusk's scheduled return to Washington.
It occurred in an atmosphere of deadlock. The only known new proposal before them was Gromyko's plan for a vague international watch on the land, air and water corridors linking isolated West Berlin with West Germany, 110 miles away.
In its present form that proposal is completely unacceptable to Rusk.
The Russian plan presupposes that American, British and French garrisons will have to leave Berlin. It gives day-to-day control over the access routes to the East Germans, with an international body acting only in an advisory capacity. And it would crowd the Western powers into the position of recognizing the Communist East German regime.
Yet seen from another angle, the Gromyko proposal at least gave the two ministers a new point of departure in their conversations after more than two weeks of disagreement, not only on Berlin but on the questions of general disarmament and suspension of nuclear weapons tests.
The 17-nation disarmament conference, meanwhile, was called off for the day because of the death of a U.N. official, preventing Rusk from making a final personal appeal for agreement on limited arms accords.

He Doesn't Have Chance Faubus Says
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus belittled the chances today of Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., being elected governor, but he still kept his own plans to himself.
Faubus said he had made up his mind definitely during the past week while he was on vacation and he would have an announcement soon.
Commenting on Alford's candidacy, Faubus said, "Should I decide to run, his filing would make no difference."
Faubus volunteered: "He (Alford) might get a few votes in Little Rock and Pine Bluff, but he wouldn't get enough votes to form a corporal's guard in any mountain county in the state."
Told that Alford classified himself as a friend to Faubus, the governor remarked, "I have always been governed by the old adage that actions speak louder than words."
Faubus said he had a poll made some time ago which showed that 65 per cent of Arkansas voters favor what his administration has done.
One listener speculated, "The hell means you're going to run?" Faubus laughed. "Don't bet all

Disgruntled Reservist to Be Tried
FT. POLK, La. (AP)—A Texas soldier, accused of criticizing a crackdown on protests by disgruntled reservists and National Guardsmen, faced a special court-martial today.
He is Pfc. Bernis Owen, 23, of Seadrift, Tex., a pre-law student at the University of Texas before he was summoned to active duty last fall in the big reserve call-up.
Charges were brought against Owen for statements he allegedly made after Maj. Gen. Harley B. West, commanding general at Ft. Polk, banned the protest meetings a week ago.
Maj. James Vance, public information officer of the 49th Armored Division, said Owen described West's order as "a hilarious climax to a chain of injustices."
Owen was charged with disrespect, conduct bringing discredit to the armed forces and conduct unbecomingly of a soldier.
Faubus said he had not discussed with Alford the congressman's plans to run for governor. Alford left the question hanging when he was asked earlier if he had discussed the governor's race with Faubus.

Surgeon Arrives Back in U. S.
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A New York plastic surgeon whose socialite bride died on their honeymoon in Haiti 12 days ago, slipped into Miami Sunday night and disappeared in the sprawling city.
Dr. Manfred von Linde, 38, a native of Birmingham, Ala., was believed en route to New York.
His wife, the former Lucille Rogers, 52, of New York and Kansas City, died at Cap Haitien March 14.
They were married by a justice of the peace in Wilton, Conn., March 1.
prejudicial to good order and discipline.
If convicted, he could be given six months at hard labor and forfeiture of two-thirds pay.
West, a National Guardsman recalled to active duty from his civilian life as a Dallas, Tex., insurance executive, said in his order banning the meetings that the first protest meetings were orderly and quiet.
But, he added, "more recently there have been contemptuous words and remarks against the President of the United States and against the Congress and members thereof."
Ft. Polk has 21,000 troops, including about 15,000 Texas National Guardsmen in the 49th Division. The other 6,000—virtually all reservists and Guardsmen—are from 17 other states.

Martha Ray Is Found Unconscious
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Martha Raye was found unconscious late Sunday night on a deserted stretch of beach near her home at suburban Malibu.
A county fire department rescue squad revived her with a resuscitator. She was treated at Malibu Emergency Hospital and transferred to Hollywood West Hospital here.
Her physician, Dr. Morris Katz, said she evidently collapsed from exhaustion while walking alone on the sand. He said she is in good condition but will stay in the hospital a day or two.
The physician said the comedienne was found on the beach by one of her ex-husbands and her daughter who had become worried about her. Dr. Katz declined to identify the former husband or the daughter.
Divorced six times, Miss Raye has a daughter, Melodye Raye Condos, 18, by her fourth husband, Nick Condos, a former night club dancer.
Her husbands were, in order, Buddy Westmore, David Rose, Neal Lang, Condos, Edward Begley and Robert O'Shea.
At the emergency hospital she gave her age as 46. Attendants said she appeared to be in excellent spirits.

Four Fatally Injured in 2-Car Wreck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three Californians and a Benton, Ark., resident were fatally injured Sunday night in a two-car accident north of the Benton city limits.

The deaths brought to 14 the number of persons dying violently in the state during the week ended last midnight.

Victims of the Benton accident were identified as Roy Mills, 53, Benton; Clara Avo Talley, 50, South Gate, Calif.; Mrs. Jewel Stringfellow, 35, Bell Gardens, Calif.; and Webster Earnie Bratcher, 49, Terra Bella, Calif.

Mrs. Stringfellow's 4-year-old daughter, Anne, was hospitalized at Little Rock with a broken left leg. Her condition was believed not serious.

State police quoted witnesses as saying Mills was driving in the wrong lane on a one-way stretch of U.S. Highway 67-70 and met the California car, driven by Mrs. Stringfellow, head-on.

In another weekend accident, John Wright, 29, of Alma, was fatally injured when the car in which he was riding crashed into a car driven by Lloyd Hishaw, 52, of Fort Smith.

Wright, a passenger in a car driven by William Rogers, 22, also of Alma, died several hours later at a Van Buren hospital. Rogers was hospitalized but Hishaw escaped injury.

Estel Christian, 43, a Griffithville farmer, was killed Saturday when a tractor he was driving overturned and crushed him.

During the week, four others died in traffic accidents, two in fires, one was hit and one was killed in a sawmill accident.

Florida Case to Be Resumed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Testimony in the government's multimillion dollar income tax case against Andrew J. and George H. Florida of Osceola was to resume here today.

The hearing was recessed on March 14 while federal Judge J. Smith Henley served one week on the bench of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The federal government has charged that the two Florida brothers and corporations they own owe about $9 million in income taxes, interest and penalties.

In previous testimony in the case Robert L. Handros, an attorney for the government, charged manipulation of escrow accounts was used by the Floridas to avoid taxes.

The original suit was filed in 1959. To date nearly 600 exhibits have been introduced in the case.

Mrs. Bruce Duke, Miss Troy Hammons, Mrs. Royce Weisenberger, Mrs. H. O. Kyle, Miss Mary Anita Laseter, Mrs. E. R. Brown, Mrs. Mamie Gentry, Mrs. Ben Edmiston, Mrs. Joe Jones, Mrs. B. N. Holt, Mrs. John Wilice Porter, Mrs. J. W. Perkins, son Jr., and Mrs. J. W. Patterson.

New Cabinet Formed in Argentina

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi won a reprieve from the army today to continue his maneuvering to stay in office but military chiefs made clear any settlement of Argentina's nine-day crisis would be on their terms.

Guards at Government House donned battle dress, machine guns were mounted on the pink-hued building and security checks tightened in the area.

The precautions were taken apparently to forestall a sudden coup by admirals and some army generals reportedly determined to get Frondizi out.

Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu, champion of democratic government and the country's military ruler after the ouster of dictator Juan Peron, enlisted the support of much of the army high command in stalling off a showdown after the navy publicly called on Frondizi to resign.

Aramburu, hero of the revolt that overthrew Peron in 1955, pleaded for more time to work out a peace after warning the 21 million Argentines in a radio-television broadcast "the republic is in danger" and "many fear all is lost."

Frondizi, 54, has vowed he will never quit but Aramburu emphasized that the armed forces could get rid of the president at will. The Peronists, whose election

Arkansas Youths Held in Holdup

ROOSEVELT, Utah (AP) — Sheriff George Marett said Sunday six Arkansas youths — three girls and three boys — who were arrested after a service station holdup in eastern Utah last Friday were also wanted for questioning in connection with crimes in Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas and California.

"We've notified those places," the sheriff said, "but have heard nothing yet as to whether they plan to come here to question them."

Gilbert Beebe was held up for $194.00 Friday at his service station. He phoned police and within one hour the six were picked up at a road block by nearby Vernal.

The sheriff said Stacey Lawton, 18, and Clinton McCoy, 20, were arraigned on armed robbery charges and pleaded guilty. He said the girls, McCoy's 17-year-old wife Susan, Colleen Riddell, 18, and Rilla Coleman, 16, pleaded guilty to conspiracy.

They were scheduled to appear in District Court here April 2. One of the group, Allen Howton, 19, pleaded innocent.

Marett said all were being held under $5,000 cash bond each.

He said Howton would probably get a preliminary hearing sometime this week.

All six, he said, were from Hot Springs, Ark.

Resource Licenses Complaint Denied

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Revenue Commissioner Ted Donham has termed groundless complaints that low-cost natural resource licenses were sold to out-of-state owners who did not have their truck's assessed.

Donham said every reported instance of such sales had been fully investigated and that all licenses had been properly issued. He said to avoid any confusion, he has directed his employees "not to issue a license to anyone who doesn't first get clearance from the local tax assessor."

The complaints, Donham said, were made to State Police by members of the Arkansas Independent Truckers Association.

Congressmen Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas' congressional delegation will be guests at an annual dinner tonight sponsored by 18 Arkansas electric co-operatives. On Tuesday co-officials will meet with the Arkansas congressmen in their capital offices.

Alaska, which ranks first among states of the Union in area, ranks last in population with only 226,913 people.

Victories drove Frondizi into a corner, appeared pushed into the background of the military crisis.

When Aramburu was called from retirement to mediate the dispute last Friday, he spoke of needing 10 days to formulate a new policy for the government — with or without Frondizi.

Army Secretary Gen. Rosendo Fraga, in orders to his commanders in the interior, declared that Gen. Aramburu must be given an opportunity to carry out the job.

Fraga's message went out a few hours after the admirals called on Frondizi to quit. Some army generals reportedly were willing to give Frondizi only 24 hours to get out or be ousted.

Frondizi desperately waged an uphill fight to cling on to the presidency by hastily patching together a new Cabinet he presented as a coalition. The major opposition political parties boycotted his bids.

Theme Song Is "No Place Like a Night Club"

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My sister and I often read in your column about a teenager's place being at home with loving parents but what are teen-agers like myself and my sister going to do when parents aren't home long enough to see them?

The theme song of our so-called home has been changed from "There's No Place Like Home" to "There's No Place Like a Night Club." Dad and Mom have no money for us children but always plenty for good times. We live in the country and go to school by bus leaving at 7 a.m. Dad and Mom work week nights and are still asleep when we come back from school.

Neighbors keep our younger sister and brother until we return. From then on, it's rush, rush, rush. We baby-sit, clean house, wash dishes, cook supper and, once we get Dad and Mom off to work and the kids to bed, do our homework.

Saturday nights they're out doing the Twist at the latest supper club. Sundays, they're sleepy and cross. We don't know what it is to enjoy a nice weekend like a family should. It would mean so much to my sister and me to have a mother home nights to whom we could talk and who would love us once in awhile. Our grandmother is our best friend. What can we do about our parents? —Dot and Pat.

Dear Dot and Pat: Sooner or later, irresponsible parents, such as yours appear to be, pay for their sins of omission. Fate will see to that. Meanwhile, accept the fact that you have four, instead of two, children to look after.

I know it's hard, but there are compensations. Few teen-age girls possess your knowledge of cooking, cleaning, caring for kids or running a house. So, don't feel down at the mouth. The boys who draw you for wives will be lucky. Naturally you crave love and understanding all humans do. If your parents won't give it there's nothing to stop you from vicariously experiencing it by lavishing affection on your kid brother and sister and grandmother. Talk to her as you have written me. She may be able to awake your scatter-brain parents to a realization of what they are missing.

Dear Helen: I am 20, fairly attractive and successful in my job but unsuccessful with the boys. The first date is okay, after that, Well I'll give you three examples:

Saturday night I went dancing for the first time with A. We had a pleasant evening and he drove me home then expected me to stay in the car to "talk." I'm no prude but I simply can't warm up to a man on the first date. As a result I had to open the car door myself, and rush out while A. raced furiously off.

B., 23, was a blind date and, since he didn't make much of an impression, I refused a second date. Last week we met on the street. I said "Hello." He looked the other way and hurried on. C. was a boy I dated when 18. We met recently at a square dance. He acted as though he had never known me. When I drew him as a partner we danced in silence. I really was embarrassed. Why must I get these cold stares? Am I trying for the impossible in hoping to remain friends after a romantic break? —S.

Dear S.: Perhaps you've been too serious in your "breaks" with these boys. The secret is in the light touch. Learn to say goodbye with a smile. The art comes with practice. And here's a paradox; once you convince the boys that they mean nothing in your young life they'll do their damndest to prove how wrong you are.

Dear Helen: Three and a half years ago I met a boy at a church camp who was the answer to a maiden's prayer — at least for me. Although he lives in another town and goes to a different school we are still devoted.

Last night he long-distanced me to know if I could go skiing with him this weekend at a nearby mountain pass. It's a church group party and his aunt and uncle are chaperoning the affair.

My parents refuse to let me go on the ground that it wouldn't be proper for me to be his guest. Why wouldn't it? Gosh, we've gone to church conferences together for the past two summers. They won't explain. We think it's important that they do, so that when we have children of our own, we'll know how to bring them up. —Bewildered.

Dear Bewildered: Skiing parties aren't easy to chaperon and this is what probably troubles your parents. Even if your boy friend's aunt and uncle ski they couldn't possibly keep track of more than one couple at a time. Given the romantic beauty of snowy mountain scenery, goodness knows what might happen!

I side with your parents but do wish they had accompanied their son "No!" with an explanation. From observation I would say that one of the major causes of conflict between parents and children is inability to communicate.

Negros Urged to Use Votes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Negroes were urged here Sunday to improve the conditions of their race by using their money and their votes.

W. Harold Flowers, a Pine Bluff Negro attorney, told a meeting on equal job opportunities that the vote and the dollar should be the two most important things to Negroes.

Flowers said increased civil rights activity has removed the fear from Negroes. "We've won in the field of civil rights . . . but have lagged in the development of Negro young people economically."

Another speaker, John W. Smith, a Negro building contractor, said the building-trades field holds tremendous opportunities for Negroes.

But Smith added, most Negroes cannot get such jobs because of inadequate training which he blamed on the inequality of segregated school systems.

Porker Tennis Team Defeated

TAHLEQUAH, Okla. (AP) - Neither a steady downpour of rain nor a slippery basketball court deterred Northeast Louisiana State College from handing the University of Arkansas a 6-0 tennis defeat here Saturday.

The singles matches were played in the rain. Doubles were moved inside to a basketball court where stepped up play on the hardwood bothered both teams.

The victory was the second of the season for the Indians. They belted the Razorbacks 6-1 last week at Fayetteville.

The summary:
Singles: Ronnie Cox beat Jack Bailey 6-4, 6-2; Chad Storie defeated Alan Beauchamp 6-2, 5-7, 6-3; Bob Kiser downed Charles Long 6-1, 7-5 and David Kiser topped Mike Meistrell 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles: Kiser and Storie downed Bailey and Long 6-4, 3-6 and 6-4 and Cox and Lew Barryhill defeated Meistrell and Beauchamp 6-1, 6-4.

Porker Track Team Is Last

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) - The University of Arkansas track team placed last with three points in the university division of the Kansas State University Indoor Relays here Saturday.
Oklahoma state dominated the six-school class, scoring 15 points.

Henderson and Austin Split

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) - Henderson split a twin bill with Austin College of Sherman, Tex. here Saturday, blanking the visitors 2-0 in the opener, then dropping the nightcap 3-2.

The Texans got only four hits off pitcher Carroll Harrison in the first game. Harrison contributed to his own cause by belting a home run with none on.

Tom Kennedy was the losing pitcher in the nightcap.

Indiana Swimmers Capture Honors

MEMPHIS (AP) - The Evansville, Ind., YMCA squad splashed to victory Sunday in the fourth annual Memphis Navy invitational swimming meet.

The Evansville team finished the three days of competition with 380 1/2 points, more than the next two teams combined. Memphis Athletic Club was second with 192, and Westside Aquatic Club at Nashville, Tenn., was next with 140.

Blackbirds Are Banded For Study

FORREST CITY (AP) - About 10,000 blackbirds have been banded by federal Fish and Wildlife Service research biologists here as part of a study of the migratory habits of the birds.

Brooks Maneely and John S. Webb captured the blackbirds at a roost at Hicks Camp Community about eleven miles northeast of here. The St. Francis County Farm Bureau and the office of County Agent G. J. Greene cooperated in the work.

Greene said the work was part of a study being done in case a control program against the birds is begun. The birds, which migrate widely from season to season, were lured into a net.

The biologists said persons killing or catching a banded blackbird should send the band or band number to the Animal Depredation Control Section of the Patuxent Wildlife Reserve Center in Laurel, Md.

BANKING ON DEATH

THE STORY: The proposed distribution of the Schneider trust is complicated by the murder of Robert Schneider and the discovery that two small sons survive him.

Chapter 7
When Thatcher returned to his office in the afternoon he was surprised to find a triumphant office boy depositing on his desk two large folios, clearly marked "Property of the New York Public Library."

"I got them, Mr. Thatcher," Sheldon said with simple pride. "Good work, Sheldon," Thatcher said gravely to the boy.

Miss Corsa, who had just spent ten minutes ineffectually trying to show Sheldon the enormity of his crime, succeeded in controlling her sense of outrage only until the door closed behind him.

"But, Mr. Thatcher," she said in a scandalized voice, "we can't steal from the public library." Miss Corsa had been taught that a violation of library property ranked somewhere above treason in the roster of capital crimes.

"Not stealing," murmured Thatcher soothingly, "merely borrowing. After all, that's the function of a library. I confess this is not precisely what I had in mind, but I refuse to dishearten a promising young man. Sheldon has a great career ahead of him." He saw that Miss Corsa was prepared to protest again and hurriedly continued, "And, in order to further that career and preserve the decencies, Miss Corsa, I want you to return these papers later today without in any way revealing the culpability of either Sheldon or the Sloan."

Dismissing Miss Corsa with a magisterial wave of the hand, Thatcher settled down. Sheldon had made off with the complete files of the Buffalo newspaper from Dec. 7 to the present.

In the issue of Monday, Dec. 16, he found a two-inch notice on page one. The body of C. Robert Schneider had been found late Monday morning in his apartment. Death had occurred some time before discovery.

Then he opened Tuesday's paper. Thatcher sighed with satisfaction. There were articles, pictures, and a promise of diagrams.

Schneider Love Nest Unbarred
A search of the apartment of murder victim, C. Robert Schneider, revealed signs of habitual occupancy by a woman. Mr. Schneider was unmarried.

Mystery Woman Seen With Wreath
The police have just announced that they may have witnesses to the actual arrival of the woman whom Robert Schneider planned to entertain on the night of his murder.

Police Seek Mystery Clue
Police investigating the mysterious death of C. Robert Schneider have expressed concern over the disappearance of an unknown object from the dead man's apartment on the night of the murder.

Poets of blood forming on the floor of the study near the victim's body (see picture at left) may provide a clue as to the identity of his assailant. By the time police arrive on the scene of the crime on Monday the blood had coagulated, and the impression of an object measuring two and three-quarter inches by one and a half inches was clearly visible (see arrow). Police reason that the object must have been removed after the tragedy, presumably by the murderer.

Breathing a sigh of relief, Thatcher closed the issue of Dec. 17. He had gotten a lot of unlikely information about Robert Schneider. Any man who managed to surround his murder with champagne and silk negligees

Post Cuts Issues to 45 a Year

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - The Saturday Evening Post, a weekly which has claimed unbroken descent from Benjamin Franklin's Pennsylvania Gazette of 1728, is being switched to 45 issues a year as part of multimillion-dollar cost reduction program by the Curtis Publishing Co.

To halt heavy losses the firm also announced Sunday night that the Ladies' Home Journal, born in 1883, and American Home are being switched from monthly magazines to 10 issues a year.

Robert E. MacNeal, Curtis president, said in a policy statement to personnel that the program would boost earnings and restore confidence sapped by "rumors which cast doubt upon the survival of the company, or its magazines, or both."

At the same time MacNeal announced that Robert E. Fuoss, who recently redesigned the Post and succeeded Ben Hibbs Jan. 1 as editor, has resigned "because of completely friendly but irreconcilable differences of opinion with management on matters of policy."

Robert Lee Sherrod, 53, the managing editor, replaces Fuoss. MacNeal said each of the firm's five national magazines, including Holiday and Jack and Jill, henceforth "must pay its own way to justify continuance."

The Post now will be issued five times during a 10 week period in August and July. There will be one issue for the last two weeks in December and one issue for the first two weeks in January.

The Journal and American Home will combine January and February in a winter issue and July and August in a summer issue.

There will be no changes in subscription prices for the magazines. A spokesman said current subscribers would get all the issues they have paid for.

UN Official Dies, Talks Delayed

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP) - The death of a United Nations official caused quick adjournment of today's session of the disarmament conference and delayed a final personal appeal by Secretary of State Dean Rusk for East-West agreement on limited arms accords.

Rusk had planned a final speech on disarmament before leaving for Washington Tuesday. But the session opened with the announcement of the death Sunday of T. G. Narayanan, 50, an Indian diplomat and U. N. representative of nuclear test ban talks.

Before the session adjourned, Rusk praised Narayanan as "an international civil servant of the highest dedication, a man of great character, a man of great talent."

U. S. officials said Rusk would deliver his disarmament speech Tuesday.

Broiler Business Starts Off Bad

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department said today 1962 has started off rather badly for the nation's producer of broiler chickens.

A poultry situation report said prices during the first quarter were below a year ago, and a pattern similar to last year's seems to be developing.

Last March, broiler production began to greatly exceed 1960 output. This triggered a precipitous price decline which drove down broiler prices in June to below 13 cents a pound, where they remained for six consecutive months. The Department said this price did not meet production costs.

The report also predicted egg prices this spring and summer will be below year ago levels.

Maris Answer to Criticism Is Homers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Home run king Roger Maris, bolstered by the backing of Manager Ralph Houk in the controversy provoked by his off-the-field blarney, has fired his first on-the-field salvo.

Stung by the criticism of his conduct and buoyed by Houk's assertion that "Rog is a team ball player who gives us 100 percent at all times," Maris responded with two homers Sunday that powered the New York Yankees to a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The two shots—doubling his output for the entire 1961 exhibition season when he hammered 61 during the regular campaign—came after Houk felt compelled to step into the dispute over Maris' department, and deny reports of dissension among the world champions.

Maris had his own answer to his critics, tagging a Sam Ellis pitch for a solo homer over the 342-foot right field fence in the first inning, a tie Reds' Tampa home base, then cracking a fourth-inning Ellis serve for a one-on-one homer over the 377-foot marker in right center.

After the second blast, Houk gave Maris the rest of the day off.

Dale Long took over the home run lead with his sixth of the spring in Washington's 9-8 triumph over the New York Mets at Pompano Beach, and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn became the first pitcher to go nine innings although the Braves lost to Baltimore 7-1 at Miami.

Elsewhere, Cleveland walloped Boston 8-1 at Tucson, Minnesota beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 in 11 innings at Orlando, Chicago's Cubs defeated San Francisco 8-4 at Phoenix, Kansas City whipped Detroit 6-2 at West Palm Beach and the Los Angeles Angels edged Houston 5-4 at San Diego.

The Pittsburgh-Philadelphia and St. Louis-Chicago White Sox games were canceled due to rain. Maris' homers gave the Yankees a 3-0 lead before Hector Lopez put it away with a three-run homer in the sixth. Vada Pinson countered with a solo shot for the Reds. Long's homer gave the Senators an early bulge but they needed Harry Bright's bases-loaded single in the last of the ninth to snap the Mets' four-game winning streak.

Spahn gave up 10 hits in going the route, with Jim Gentile pacing the Orioles attack with a two-run homer, double, single and walk. Bill Short hurled five innings of no-hit ball for Baltimore.

The Indians climbed over the Red Sox by Chuck Essegian's five RBI performance produced by a three-run homer, triple and single. A leadoff homer by Sandy Valdespino in the 11th beat the Dodgers for the Twins, who had opened up the scoring on Harmon Killebrew's round tripper. Minnesota's Georges Maranda allowed no hits in his six-inning stint. A grand slam homer by Billy Williams in the fourth inning gave the Cubs an edge they never lost against the Giants.

The A's pounded the Tigers' starter Don Mossi for four runs in the second inning and made the most of a nine hits and four Detroit errors for an easy triumph. The Angels

$16 Million Bet at Spa Race Track

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Betting and attendance at Oaklawn Park during the first five weeks of the 43-day racing season continued to climb over the corresponding period last year.

Unofficial results for the first 31 days of racing show a betting total of $16,686,766, a nine per cent increase over 1967.

Attendance during the first five weeks this year reached 284,546, a gain of 5,922 over last year.

Jockey Larry Spraker, with 42 victories to his credit, holds a commanding lead over Oaklawn riders.

Spraker, in 209 starts, has carded also 34 seconds and 17 thirds. Robert Nono and Wayne Chambers are tied for second with 28 winners each.

Nono has made 191 starts coming second 31 times and taking show laurels 26. Chambers' record shows 156 mounts, including 25 seconds and 17 thirds.

Calvin Stone is fourth with 17 winners, followed by Ronnie Campbell, 16; Robert Gallimore, 13; Harlan Dalton and Ken Griffith, 12; and Eugene Curry, 11.

Natego, a 15-1 longshot running under the colors of Mrs. Marilyn V. Lindy, surged from far in the pack and emerged victorious in Saturday's $10,000 Razorback Handicap.

Stewards disqualified Kurit San, which had finished second, for crowding Salasas into Playgoer while taking the lead going into the stretch.

Mrs. Emil Denmark's Santiago was moved from third to second and Salasas, a W. Hal Bishop horse, was upped to third.

With Spraker aboard, Natego covered the mile and 70 yards of fast track in 1:42 flat and returned $32.60, $18.60 and $8.20.

Saturday's crowd of 17,848, the second high of the season, wagged $923,223.

Nine monies for the $25,000 added Arkansas Derby are among 11 three-year-olds named for today's $4,000 mile and 70 yard feature.

The race honors singer Johnny Desmond and the supporting feature is named for fan dancer Sally Rand. Both are appearing at Hot Springs elms.

Assigned to weight of 117 pounds in the headliner and making his first start in this distance event will be speedy Killoqua, carrying the derby hopes of John D. Askew of Fayetteville.

Other derby candidates in the wide open field of the "prep" are Jacnot Stable's Poland China, Paxton Harthill's Mamelot, Clarence N. Wilson's Escadal, C. B. McNeill's The Nuts, Bishop's Durand, Helen W. Kellogg's Prince Dale, Al Bisignano's Father Jerry and Donald McKellar's Foxwood.

Dayton Wins Crown in the NIT Tourney

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After a succession of disappointing near-misses, Dayton today is at the pinnacle of its basketball history—lifted there by a stronghearted team confident of triumph.

Dayton reached its height Saturday afternoon capturing the National Invitation Tournament championship with a convincing 73-67 victory over St. John's of New York.

For Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn and the Flyers, it marked the end of a long, frustration-filled road. Blackburn had entered Dayton squads in nine previous NITs, starting in 1951, and had seen five of them turned back in the title game. This time he had the one to go all the way—a team stamped with the poise, gameness and skills of a champion.

The 1962 Flyers from Ohio first exhibited their title potential when they defeated Wichita 79-71 in the opening game of the tournament at Madison Square Garden. Then came sweeping victories over three seeded entries, Houston (64-77), Loyola of Chicago (98-82) and favored St. John's, a three-time NIT champion.

In the high-pressure atmosphere of tournament competition at the famed Garden, Dayton's key men in its drive to the championship were two remarkable sophomores, Bill Chmielewski and Gordy Hutton.

Chmielewski, a smooth-moving 6-foot-10 giant, decisively outplayed St. John's towering star Leroy Ellis virtually all the way. The Dayton center was the pace setter as the Flyers "took command, finished the game with 24 points and was high scorer in the tourney with 107. His superb all-around showing earned him Most Valuable Player honors and a famous selection to the Associated Press All-NIT team.

Hutton, who combined with his brother Tom to give Dayton a whirlwind backcourt pair, lifted the living Flyers' offense as St. John's was making a late-game threat. He pumped in 11 of Dayton's last 19 points, had 18 for the day and 94 for four games. He was an overwhelming pick for the all-tourney squad.

Ellis, although overshadowed by Chmielewski in the final, made the All-NIT team by a wide margin. St. John's senior netted only 5 of 19 field goal attempts against Dayton but totaled 22 for the game and 80 for three tournament starts. Others named to the team, chosen by 25 sports writers at court-side, were sophomore guard Willie Somerset of Duquesne and Holy Cross' senior sharpshooter, Jack Foley.

Loyola took third place in the tourney, beating Duquesne 95-84 in the consolation game.

Ft. Smith Fails to Get 4th Place

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—The bid of Fort Smith, Ark. for fourth place in the National Junior College Basketball Tournament failed here Saturday night.

The 76-66 defeat of the Arkansans by Cameron A&M of Lawton Okla. relegated Fort Smith to seventh place in the tourney.

Stories included the $10,000 Hot Springs Handicap. He finished fifth to Treasury Note in the $10,000 Rebel Handicap a week ago.

That was his first start in other than a sprint and his handlers expect him to benefit. The colt probably will be ridden by Kenward Bernis.

Poland China, a recent arrival from California, makes his first Oaklawn start and will be ridden by Spraker.

Although a non-winner as a three-year-old, Poland China finished in the money in seven of his eight races.

Mamelot finished strong in the Rebel while Escadal and The Nuts have shown enough to make them regarded as threats.

Everywhere, except in the United States, peanuts are grown mainly for their edible oil. Americans, however, have learned to eat and love peanut butter and here they are grown mainly for this purpose. Half the crop goes into peanut butter and only 10 per cent is crushed for oil. The rest of the crop is used for salting peanuts, candy and bakery goods.

Kid Paret Fighting for Life

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny (Kid) Paret, battered senseless in losing the world welterweight championship to Emile Griffith Saturday night, was in a coma and reported near death today.

His manager, Manuel Alfaro, said Dr. Howard Dunbar, a neurological specialist, told him that Paret's chances of recovering from brain damage were "one in 10,000."

However, Alfaro said at 1:30 a.m. Paret appeared to be slightly improved because his muscles were relaxed instead of rigid and he was able to move his eye-brows; Paret had just been given some blood transfusions.

Alfaro spoke to newsmen as he left Paret's room at Roosevelt Hospital to sleep on a couch in the hospital office for his first rest since Paret was carried out of the ring at Madison Square Garden.

Boxer Jose Torres, a friend of Paret who spent hours at the hospital, said Paret's wife, Lucy, wept most of the time she was in her husband's room.

Torres said she frequently patted her husband's face, pleading: "Benny, Benny, listen to me."

Mrs. Paret, 23, is expecting a second child in seven months. She brought the couple's son, Benny Jr., 2, with her.

Paret, 25, who rose from a $2-a-day cutter in the sugar cane fields of Cuba to a world champion, has been in a special-care unit at the hospital.

When Paret went down in the 12th round of the nationally televised fight, oxygen was administered in the ring. Then the unconscious fighter was taken to his dressing room on a stretcher.

Less than two hours after the knockout, Paret was on an operating table at the hospital. Surgeons drilled four holes in his skull to relieve the pressure of blood clots on both sides of his brain.

The New York State Athletic Commission was rushing to complete a report on the fight ordered by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. In a tersely worded telegram to Gen. Melvin L. Krulwicz, chairman of the commission, the governor demanded the report be in his hands today.

Paret took a severe beating from Griffith before referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the bout in 2:09 of the 12th round. Ringsiders counted between 20 and 26 punches that connected while Griffith had Paret in a neutral corner.

As Paret's head caught between the ropes, slid slowly to the floor, Griffith—striving to regain the championship he had lost to Paret last Sept. 30—blazed away with uppercut after uppercut.

Goldstein rushed in to stop it, and had to pull Griffith away from the bleeding, unconscious Paret.

Cincy Defeats Ohio State for NCAACrown

By KELSO STURGEON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Paul Hogue, who throughout his collegiate career at Cincinnati walked in the footsteps of Oscar Robertson but remained hidden in the shadow of Jerry Lucas, reigned today as the nation's crown prince of basketball.

Behind the powerful play of Hogue, a 6-foot-9, 240-pound giant from Knoxville, Tenn., Cincinnati bowled over top-ranked Ohio State 71-59 Saturday night to win its second straight National Collegiate basketball championship.

The victory gave the Bearcats their second straight NCAA title and their second consecutive triumph over arch-rival Ohio State in the finals of the annual classic.

Last year Cincinnati edged the Buckeyes 70-65 in overtime.

Hogue, overlooked when All-America honors were passed out, scored 22 points, hauled down 19 rebounds and played rings around Lucas, Ohio State's three time All-America. Lucas, playing with an injured left knee, was held by Hogue to only 11 points, far below his season average.

Asked if he was out to prove to the world his great ability, Hogue replied: "I wasn't out to prove anything."

"We just wanted to show the folks that our victory last year wasn't a fluke."

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's great All-America now playing professional basketball, preceded Hogue at the center spot for the Bearcats. When Hogue made his debut as a sophomore his lack of coordination and his awkwardness was unbelievable.

But midway through his junior year, Hogue had smoothed off the edges and led Cincinnati to the 1961 NCAA title. He closed out his collegiate career as one of the most sought after pro prospects in the nation.

Bearcat Coach Ed Jucker was asked if he thought Hogue's tournament performance had anything to do with his being the forgotten man in Ohio basketball circles.

"I'm sure this had much to do with Hogue's great performance. I know Paul feels deeply about this. He played a great tournament and did a great job on Lucas."

Hogue received 75 of a possible 78 votes to win the Most Valuable Player award in the tournament. Cincinnati kept the pressure on the Buckeyes, who were unable to run their usual fast break against the speedy Bearcats, and soon melted Ohio State's attack. Cincinnati jumped to a 37-29 half time edge and the Bucks could never make up the ground.

It was evident Lucas' knee bothered him. He couldn't rebound, defend or shoot like he usually does. He hit only five of 16 shots against the Bearcats. His over-all shooting average is nearly 63 per cent.
